Brief statement (less than 100 words of the history of the building):

Often described as the most significant post-War Church in Britain this building is one of the 'icons' of modern church architecture and is listed. Built in 1960 it replaces a Victorian church bombed in last war. The BBC recently filmed as for a series on churches, selecting it as their one example of modern church architecture in the UK. There is an extensive display showing history of previous church and area pre-War and also the many ways this church is now used (events, conferences, art display, performance etc.) within its remit as a building.

Please attach a maximum of 6 images of the building if possible. If not will you please give permission for our photographer to photograph the building?
